

The Help This Half Yearly Clothing Mark-Down Gives Is Welcomed

by thousands of men. Here, indeed, is a real way to save money for every suit of clothing—every article of men's furnishings included has a definite, recognized face value known by every one, and to offer merchandise of this character at our low prices merely emphasizes our statement that the one purpose of this mark-down is to effect a drastic reduction of our summer stock.

Two Things Will Appeal to You ABOUT THIS MARK-DOWN

- First==The unquestioned excellence of the clothing from all standpoints including workmanship, fabric and style.
- Second==The mark-downs made are from former prices that were in every way liberal and reasonable for the qualities.

GREENS FARMS CHURCH TO BE PRESENTED WITH MARBLE MEMORIAL SLAB

On Sunday Miss M. Louise Hyde will present to the Greens Farms Congregational church a marble tablet mounted on bronze in memory of her sister and four of her ancestors who were active workers in the church. Dr. John Hyde, the first, was a deacon in the church prior to 1740. The others who were deacons were: John Hyde, Jr., 1742; Joseph Hyde, in 1790; Joseph Hyde, Jr., appointed in 1813; and John S. Hyde appointed in 1840. Her sister was H. Elmer Hyde. With the exception of Dr. Hyde all of Miss Hyde's ancestors were farmers. The late John S. Hyde is buried in the Greens Farms churchyard. The others are buried in the Colonial burying ground at Greens Farms. Two boy cousins of the donor Earl and Davis Adams will unveil the tablet. Miss Hyde will make the speech of presentation and the acceptance of the tablet will be by George P. Jennings.

The Sunday schools of the Congregational church of Newfield avenue, the German Methodist of Grand street and the Devon church had picnic at Beardsley park yesterday. The three schools went to the park in special trolley cars. Games were enjoyed and lunch served.

A state of elegs was proclaimed by the German Administration.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Allied Army.
On the 25th of May, there were 200,000 Prussians on the Rhine; 90,000 Bavarians, Westphalians and Badenese on the upper Rhine; besides the forces under the Duke of Wellington, and 250,000 Russians who were advancing.

Important.

On the 12th of May, the Congress of Vienna, renewed their declaration of autonomy against Napoleon, of the 13th of March; and this new declaration was signed by the ministers of Austria, France, Great Britain, Bavaria, Denmark, Portugal, Prussia, Spain, Sweden, Hanover, Netherlands, Sardinia, Saxony, the two Sicilies and Wurtemberg.

It was reported that the Melpomene French frigate had been captured in the Mediterranean by an English man of war.

Dunkirk and Lisle have been declared by Napoleon in a state of rebellion.

London, May 31.—A letter from Brussels, May 27, states that the allied forces would not commence hostilities until the arrival of the whole of the Russian and Prussian infantry, which was not expected until the latter part of June. The French were concentrating on the Samore Meuse, and they report that they are to attempt to cut to between the English and Prussians; and Lord Wellington has made an oblique movement to prevent it.

By the brig Avon, which arrived at this port on Saturday evening, in 46 days from Greenock, we have received London papers (the Star) to the 2nd of June inclusive. At that time hostilities had not commenced between the Allied powers and France, but was momentarily expected.

Letters from Brussels mention, that a grand review of the cavalry (20,000) took place there on the 26th of May. The men and horses were said to be in fine condition, and made a brilliant display. Lord Wellington had not been in bed for three nights preceding the review.

The Paris papers are to May 30th. Marshall Blucher had arrived at Brussels to concert measures with Lord Wellington.

The Spanish and Portuguese armies collected upon the frontiers of France to invade it, are four in number; the two most considerable are those of Blacay and Catalonia; the corps at Navarre and Arragon are less considerable. The Austrian troops have entered Naples.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS.

Workmen are engaged in blasting away the rocks in front of Mr. Peck's residence, on Beaver street, west of Chestnut, for the purpose of lower-colors was begun last night and promises to be satisfactory. The lanterns are a device of Pres. Radcl. They will be placed at the right hand corner of the front dash and can be seen a long distance. Following are the colors of the various divisions:

Oak street and lower Park avenue, red; Park avenue to Mountain Grove cemetery, green; North Main street and Seaside park, purple; Brooklawn, amber. There will be no colors shown on the Barnum avenue, State street and Southport cars, which will carry white headlights.

NO ONE HURT.

The five-foot, cast-iron cannon with which the sunset and sunrise gun have been fired at Camp Riga exploded upon its discharge Saturday evening, but fortunately the fragments struck none of those who were about. One piece tore off the top of an adjacent tree. General Henry A. Bishop had set off the cannon, and those near by were Mayor Frank Clark, Salmon Goodell, Henry Setzer, Dr. Civilian Fones and F. W. Ostrom.

WITH A CURLING IRON.

Miss Lizzie Dunn, of Lexington avenue, was fixing her Della Fox curling iron when a noise startled her and she poked the hot curling iron in her right eye. The lids of the eye were badly burned when she appeared at the Emergency.

CONCERT IN STRATFORD.

A highly successful concert was given in the Stratford town hall last evening under the direction of Mrs. W. O. Brown for the benefit of the local hook and ladder company. One of those in the audience was the Rear Admiral Gherardi. The vocalists were Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Robert B. Allen, Miss Florence Allen, Mrs. Beardsley and Mr. L. N. Burr. Mrs. Helena A. Brown was heard in recitations and Mrs. William Rodgers executed a piano solo in fine style. The accompanists were Miss Ida L. Atwood and Mrs. H. D. Patchen.

SEA SERPENT AGAIN.

New York, July 16, 1895.—The sea serpent is now cruising in the Sound. At least, that is what two young men who went up to New London on the last trip of the City of Lowell declared yesterday. The object was off Stratford Shoals and there are no summer hotels near there. All the young men can give by way of a description of it is that it seemed to move. It was half a mile astern of the City of Lowell when seen.
